hey guys, i'm having an adobe illustrator cs5 problem. the lines i drew in my work aren't connected. if i just start a line like a horizontal line, then move the cursor to another spot and just start a line in the opposite direction, the lines don't connect. like you see here. Advertisements What I think is going on here is you're wanting to draw a line to move the pen. The pen cannot move and stay at the same point on the canvas. Draw a line in the "Trajectory" section of the "Pencil" tool to move the pen to draw a line. It will look like this: If you want to draw a line to place an object then go to the "Shape" section of the pencil tool and draw a line. You can go to the "Trajectory" section and place the pencil down on the canvas. If you mean to change the length of the lines then look in the tools section, then the "Drawing" panel and there is a "Line" tab. Go to that tab and the "width" value should be a decimal (1.0). If you want to change the length of the lines simply click on the pencil tool (it's a vector line so it stays true until you change it) and type in 1.0.) and corresponding to the results obtained in mouse and human cancer tissues^[@CR43]. The second group of genes included genes with high mRNA expression in the residual cancer "environs". The expression of these genes was found to be elevated in both the mouse and human cancer "environs". Of particular note are genes encoding members of the MAPK pathway. For example, mRNAs of the MAP kinase kinases MAP2K1 and MAP2K2 were expressed at high levels in the tumor microenvironment, and mRNAs of MAPK2, JNK1, JNK2 and ATF2 were expressed at high levels in the tumor cells. The third group of genes included genes with high mRNA expression in the residual cancer "environs" of the wild-type mouse. The expression of these genes was found to be elevated in the tumor "environs" of both the "Apc^{+/+}/1638^N" 82157476af
